Nomination Trial for the 2024 Winter Youth Olympic Games 5th and 6th October 2023 O'Brien Icehouse, Docklands, Melbourne

Format and Distances

The following format and distances will apply to male athletes contesting for the nomination to the 2024 Australian Winter Youth Olympic Team for the 2024 Winter Youth Olympic Games in Gangwon, South Korea.

The nomination trials will be conducted over 2 days:

- Wednesday October 4th between 7:00am and 8:00am and,
- Thursday October 5th between 10:00am and 11:00am.

Athletes will race in each of the 500m, 1000m and 1500m distances on each day. Racing will be held in accordance with the Australian Short Track Rules.

Seeding

- Day 1 - 1500m Final, seeding will be made via RandomResult.com.
- Day 1 – 500m Final, seeding will be based on the distance ranking from 1500m final.
- Day 1 – 1000m Final, seeding will be based on the combined ranking after 1500m and 500m races.
- Day 2 – 1500m Final, seeding will be based on the overall ranking at the conclusion of day 1 races.
- Day 2 – 500m Final, seeding will be based on the distance ranking from day 2's 1500m final.
- Day 2 – 1000m Final, seeding will be based on the combined ranking after day 2's 1500m and 500m races.

Equipment

All equipment must be maintained to the required ISU standards and will be checked by the referee prior to racing.

Skaters may be allocated a coloured helmet cover for the duration of this competition.

Point Classification

Each race will carry the following points:

1st place = 34 points

2nd place = 21 points

A skater who receives a penalty will receive no points for that particular race. Where more than one skater receives a penalty, both skaters will receive no points for that particular race.

Any skater who receives a yellow card will receive no points and will not be included in the applicable distance classification for both day 1 and day 2.

The nomination to the Australian Olympic Committee will be based on the result of the combined points for the races, i.e. 2 x 500m, 2x 1000m and 2 x 1500m races. Points will be awarded for each race as previously indicated.

Where a tie exists after the six races, the skater with the greatest number of wins over the three distances will be declared the winner.

Where a tie still exists, the fastest 1500m time will be used to break the tie.

Australian Ice Racing Limited reserves the right to appoint athletes as "Reserve" athletes based on the results of the trials.
